

CATTLE FEEDING MOVES TO SOUTHWEST

Cattle Fed on Maize and Kafir Break all Texas Records and Topped Market at Kansas City.

Cattle from the range territory top the fed steer market in Kansas City, study shows that cattle feeding is no longer confined to the corn belt, or has apparently been superseded. Steers from the Southwest which never had any native corn topping the market until seven years ago, now show that the feeding industry is losing its press in the Mississippi Valley and is moving rapidly toward the Panhandle.

A Bush of Herefords Fed by C. O. Kaiser in the Texas Panhandle.

In Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, break the world's record for cattle exports, which raise an abundance of kafir, maize and corn, which have given their high feeding qualities on the Kansas City market.

C. O. Kaiser, of Canyon, Texas, in the Panhandle district, has fully demonstrated the truth of the contention of the superiority of the steers over the older sections of the United States. Last week, with eight car loads of two and three year old Hereford steers he topped the Kansas City market at $25 per hundred, with steers that averaged 1,014 and 1,056. Other lots averaging 1,010 and at $18.15 and 1,000 at $19.10. The cattle were fed on kafir, corn and maize, maize, around half corn and maize, maize, and kafir, feeder, all products of the state. They were on feed only 90 days. The price paid for the cattle was the highest at which Lone Star cattle have ever sold and in fact establishes a new record for fed cattle from the southwest on any market in the middle west.

On June 18, 1912, Mr. Kaiser made a record on the Kansas City market with his pound yearling steers at 10.00 which were fed native grains and maize, and which held the record for high priced cattle from the southwest until this year. In October, 1912, a batch of Mr. Kaiser's better cattle
